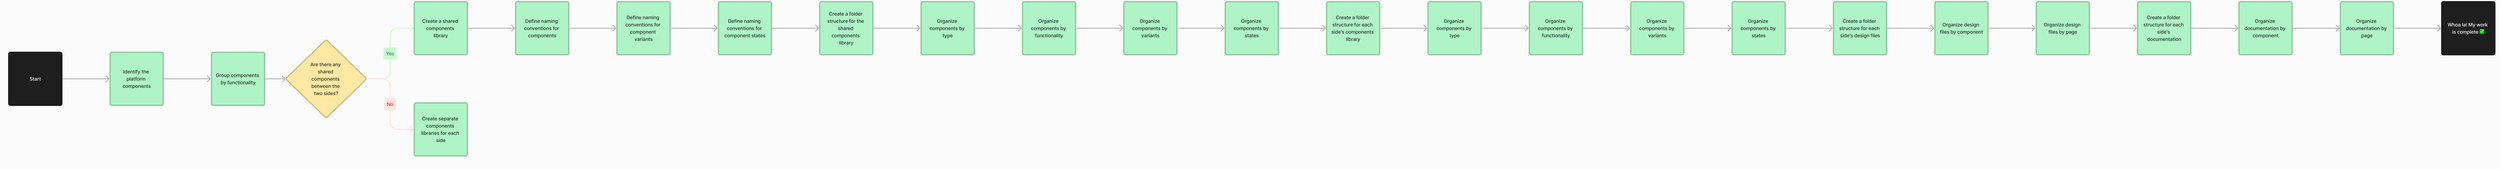
Flow chart



Start
Identify the platform components
Group components by functionality
Are there any shared components between the two sides?
Yes
No
Create a shared components library
Create separate components libraries for each side
Define naming conventions for components
Define naming conventions for component variants
Define naming conventions for component states
Create a folder structure for the shared components library
Organize components by type
Organize components by functionality
Organize components by variants
Organize components by states
Create a folder structure for each side's components library
Organize components by type
Organize components by functionality
Organize components by variants
Organize components by states
Create a folder structure for each side's design files
Organize design files by component
Organize design files by page
Create a folder structure for each side's documentation
Organize documentation by component
Organize documentation by page
Whoa ta! My work is complete 🚀